Kathleen F. Hagan has advised internationally based emerging technology companies on domestic market entry strategy, business development, market positioning and management development practices. International and US based research institutions have relied on Ms. Hagan's domestic market guidance for their emerging technologies over the past fifteen years.

Ms. Hagan previously founded and managed a full service management consulting firm focused on market entry, market expansion opportunities and strategy formulation. She has leadership experience with higher education institutions and has worked with the US Senate and the Massachusetts Port Authority as a Director of Foreign Trade.

Ms. Hagan completed her MBA (Cum Laude) at the Boston University School of Management and received her BA from Trinity College in Washington, DC. She previously served as the Executive Director of the MIT Enterprise Forum and will continue to serve on several for profit and not for profit Board of Director positions.
